VETERANS OF GREAT WAR

Admiral Robert E. Perry Ship, No. 427, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the only naval unit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars located in this section of the country, is to meet at the Old Naval building, 921 Pennsylvania avenue southeast, Thursday night. The unit meets the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

A sixty-day membership drive has been launched by the unit and prizes have been offered for the members receiving the largest number of new members. One of the future prizes has been donated by the department officers and one by W. G. Jamieson of Equality-Walter Reed Post.

A special meeting is to be held the last of this month for the purpose of electing officers to fill several vacancies.

The annual installation of officials of Equality-Walter Reed Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was held Thursday night at Lythian Temple, 1012 14th street northwest. The ceremonies were ritualistic in form and were open to all ex-service men. The officers installed were: Capt. John H. Dyer, commander; Capt. Robert B. Handy, Jr., senior vice commander; Sergt. William T. Loring, junior vice commander; Sergt. E. Donaldson, quartermaster; James M. Harrigan, chaplain; Sergt. Andrew J. Ryan, officer of the day; Col. James A. Drain and W. G. Jamieson, trustees.

The installation ceremonies were conducted by the national vice commander-in-chief, Richard S. Jones, assisted by Capt. Edwin S. Bettelheim, Jr. Addresses were made by Representative Roy C. Fitzgerald of Ohio and president of the Veterans Association of Congress; Representative Lamar Jeffers of Alabama, Representative Royal Johnson of South Dakota, past national advocate general of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Melvin Ryder, national chief of staff.

With the reconvening of Congress Thursday, after the Christmas holidays it is expected there will be little delay in the enactment of a bill for adjusted compensation of veterans of the world war. As matters now stand the Fordney and McCumber compensation measures, both of which have been taken by the American Legion, are before the House and Senate committees. No date has been set for a vote in either branch of Congress.

A request that the United States government be asked to negotiate an agreement with Great Britain for reciprocal treatment of disabled war veterans traveling or residing in either country, will be considered at the next meeting of the legislative committee of the American Legion. Such an agreement is in effect between this country and Canada.

American soldiers and marines who won the coveted congressional medal of honor during the war will receive the Italian war cross, officials of the American Legion have been informed by the Italian embassy. Vaccari, chief of staff of the embassy, already has begun distribution of the medal. Steps have been taken by the legion to also obtain the cross for naval men who received the congressional medal.

The Veterans Third District of Columbia Drum Corps will hold business meeting Wednesday night at 1219 New York avenue. Sergt. Henry Loveless announces refreshments and entertainment to follow the meeting. All former buglers of 3d District of Columbia Infantry invited.

George Washington Post, American Legion, will give subscription date February 2 at Mrs. Dyer's, 1517 R street northwest. Stephen F. Tillman, is chairman of the committee which consists of Mortimer C. Morehouse and William Holliman. The public is invited.

Capt. Edwin S. Bettelheim, Jr., chairman of the national legislative committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, has entered a strong protest in behalf of that organization against the contemplated order that is about to be issued, relieving a vast number of ex-service men doctors who are now holding reserve commissions in the United States Public Health Service hospitals from these commissions and in otherwise so reducing their pay and allowances that many of them are contemplating leaving the public health service, to the detriment of that service. This order, it is stated, will affect more than one thousand ex-service men doctors who have served during the world war and who have since continued their services in the United States Public Health Service, caring for the disabled ex-service men in the various governmental hospitals.

The veterans claim that this move is false economy on the part of the administration and that the disabled ex-service men in the hospitals will suffer. Capt. Bettelheim has sent the following letter to President Harding: "We understand that there is contemplated the issuance of an order relieving the vast number of ex-service men who are holding reserve commissions in the United States Public Health Service of their commissions and in otherwise so reducing their pay and allowances for quarters that a vast number are contemplating leaving the service in addition to those who have already done so, and as a result an inexperienced and cheap class of medical officers are or will replace these men. The result will be that the ex-service men, about whom the administration has repeatedly through its leaders expressed its deepest concern and sympathy, will suffer through what will appear to be false economy. The result of this order will undoubtedly be the replacing of these reserve medical officers, who have had quite a number of years of experience in caring for the ex-service men, by doctors who will accept these small salaries. It will be that the new appointees would either be men who have just graduated from medical schools or those who have been unsuccessful in the medical profession. "We are sure that this is quite contrary to the administration's avowed policy in respect to giving the disabled ex-service men the best of treatment.

"With this thought in mind we are taking the liberty of addressing you, urging that no such order be approved or be permitted to be put into effect."

Officers were installed Friday night by National Capital Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at a meeting at their hall, 1412 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Junior Vice Commander-in-Chief Richard S. Jones was in charge of the exercises. The new officers are: Commander, Rev. Harrison D. Beyer; senior vice commander, William J. Harrington; junior vice commander, Arthur R. E. Olson; chaplain, Joseph J. Gardella; quartermaster, Gunnar Staberg; trustees, M. B. Baldenburgh and Luther W. Linkins. The new commander appointed the following officers: Adjutant, Val N. Brandon; sergeant major, Marshall Van B. Day, and trumpeter, Henry Loveless. Mrs. Loveless was also made chairman of the entertainment committee. Past Commander George L. Tait will be presented with a badge. A series of entertainments have been planned by the post.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 824, of the United States Department of Agriculture, recently elected officers, as follows: George A. W. commander; James M. Deane, senior vice commander; John P. Divine, junior vice commander; Fred G. Lucas, adjutant; Herbert B. Ward, quartermaster; Edward A. Goldman, Peter J. Keleher and Ivar Tidstrom, trustees; Peter H. Quinn, officer of the day; Archibald A. Ruark, chaplain; Frederick Seebode, sergeant major; Richard F. Downes, quartermaster; sergeant; H. Zeemann, sentinel; Edward M. Lavin, guard; Philip H. Burch and Robert L. Newton, color guards, and Edmund C. King, surgeon.

The committee on entertainment reported an elaborate program for the installation of officers on January 21.

which will be an open meeting. All overseas men are invited. The ladies of the Department of Agriculture will set tables for approximately eighty ex-service men from St. Elizabeth's Hospital today at 5 p.m. at 230 12th street southwest. This is one of the bi-monthly suppers given to these men. The V. F. W. Post 824 of the Department of Agriculture will furnish the entertainment for the occasion.

Charles B. Hanford was elected commander of George Washington Post, the American Legion, at the annual election of officers, Wednesday night in the boardroom, District building.

Other officers elected were: John Thomas Taylor, first vice commander; Albert E. Haas, second vice commander; T. V. Walker, third vice commander; N. J. Cosel, quartermaster; S. P. Tillman, sergeant-at-arms; Dr. W. M. Williams, surgeon; Paul V. Collins, historian, and Frank Platts and William E. Porter, color bearers.

MOB KILLS COLORED MAN.

White Woman Involved in Case Is Forced to Leave Community.

FLORENCE, South Carolina, January 7.—Two negroes were shot, one fatally, and a white woman forced to leave the community by a mob which accused one of the negroes of intimacy with the woman, in the lower part of Florence county, according to the magistrate who held an inquest into the affair, which took place several days ago.

First reports had it that the outbreak took place in Williamsburg county, near the Florence line, and details of the affair were not received here until yesterday. William McAllister, the accused negro, was killed, and Lincoln Hickson was severely wounded, but held McAllister's body in the buggy and drove to his home seven miles away. The negroes upon from ambush at his home, the magistrate said.

Mrs. M. S. Parke entertained her piano and violin pupils in Chevy Chase at a holiday party Saturday afternoon. Those who took part were Jack Mahoney, David Betts, Walter Reynolds, Billie Betts, Florence Grady, James Sherwin, Charles Wilson, Warren Casady, Francis Brantley Allen, Sherwin, Mrs. R. Mahoney, Miss Reynolds and Mary Jane Allen.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS

Col. James S. Pettit Camp, No. 5, will assemble for muster Tuesday evening, January 10, at its headquarters, Perpetual Hall, 11th and F streets northwest. Installation of officers for the ensuing year will occur.

Past Department Commander Comrade Robert H. Wood of Pettit Camp, No. 3; Comrade King Bush of Astor Camp, No. 6, and Comrade Dennis Quill of Miles Camp, No. 1, have answered their last roll call and were buried with full military honors.

Gen. Allison Baxley, as commander of J. Allison Camp, No. 1; Samuel G. McWilliams of Gen. M. Emmett Urell Camp, No. 2, and Frank Huhn of Richard J. Harden Camp, No. 2, all got a flying start with their new corps of officers for the year. Col. John A. Gallagher, installing officer, started them right by officially inducting them into their position as commanders for the new year. Good luck to you all!

Attention, adjutants and quartermasters! Get your semi-annual reports and per capita tax into headquarters at once. Don't embarrass your department commander by procrastinating. We want to be among the first of the departments to be square with national headquarters.

Department Commander McCaffrey has received from his chairman of the Maine memorial committee, Past Department Commander Lee H. Harris of Lawton Camp, No. 4, word of a splendid program and arrangements for the exercises commemorating the twenty-fourth memorial in honor of the heroes of the Maine, on February 15, at 2:30 p.m., in its riding hall at Fort Myer, Va. Every comrade in the department should make it his duty to be present on the occasion.

The executive committee of the Washington fair, recently held in Convention Hall, expects to have a full report ready to present to the council of administration at its meeting in the very near future.

Francis C. Huhn, commander-elect of Harden Camp, No. 2, entertained his new corps of officers for the ensuing year at a New Year eve party. During the evening chairman and committees were selected to work for the new year was laid out. Commander Huhn expects to have the best year in the history of the camp.

Now that Congress is back on the job again we expect to hear from our good chairman of the national legislative committee, Comrade John Lewis Smith of Miles Camp.

Word was passed around that the department commander and his adjutant were on a dog-robber job for the commander-in-chief around the
